Are backing you all Garfield Hi
Our school is our fame protector

Victory from you Garfield Hi's

Fling out that dear old flag of crimson and blue
Lead on your sons and daughters loyal and true
Like men of old on giants placing reliance
Shouting defiance. Ra! Ra! Ra!

Beneath that dear old flag that shelters our band
For Garfield's honor and for learning we stand
And unto thee we pledge our heart and hand

Senior A's of Garfield
Welcome you today
Come and watch our program
and pass the time away.
Do you like our sweaters
and our Senior class?
You should sing with feeling
As we go walking past.
Oh! The Senior A's of Garfield
Look nice in orange and white
Oh the Senior A's of Garfield
are what you call just right.
Reaching for a rainbow
Happiness for days
All our troubles over
We are the Senior A's

Senior A's of Garfield
Grades are all O.K.
Hee! We sure are happy
What more is there to say?
Time is going - faster
We must hurry on
-soon we will - be leaving
Our school-days will be gone.
But now we have our sweaters
Don't we look nice and neat?
Oh you really must confess now
The Seniors can't be beat.
Now our song is over
That's all we have to say
All our worries over
We are the Senior A's!

G. A. A.

Hear our joyous joyous chorus,
Full of laughter blithe and gay
As we merrily cheer, merrily cheer,
For the Garfield G. A. A.

See the banner a-waving o'er us,
See the breezes 'round it play.
As it merrily waves, merrily waves,
For the Garfield G. A. A.

Hear us shout! Hear us sing!
Hear us give a good rousing cheer!
Cheer! oh so merrily, yes, hear us,
While our banner waves above us.
And we lift our voices gay,
As we merrily cheer, merrily cheer,
For the Garfield G. A. A.

G. A. A. WE'RE CHEERING

12th Grade

Can't you see the team that's forming
From the girls of the G. A. A.?
Can't you hear the cries of victory
For our players so strong and brave?

Chorus

Garfield High School we're cheering for you
And to you we will always be true
And we'll win today in the glorious fray
And our girls will fight, yes with all their might.

Garfield High School, we're cheering anew
For the girls who will win for you.
And o'er western skies all our shouts arise
Oh, Hurrah, for the G. A. A.

Go out to our victory

Shout And Sing

We will shout, we will sing
We will make the echoes ring
And those Bulldogs will pile up the score
We will cheer as they go
Up the field to reach the goal
And we'll watch as they pile up the score
For it's G. H. S. on the field to win tonight
And they, will fight, fight to win
For the school is here, cheering as they go
And we'll watch as they pile up the score.

G. A. A.

Tune (Side by Side)

Oh, you never saw girls more happy
You never saw girls more snappy
Laughing all day
In work and play
G. A. A.
You never saw girls more jolly
Whether it's tennis or volly
Swift though the fray
You'll hear us say
G. A. A.
Through all kinds of combats
Hockey or basket-ball
We keep right on a-playing
And never complain at all.
'Cause you never saw girls more snappy
You never saw girls more happy
Laughing all day
In work and play
G. A. A.

GARFIELD GIRLS

To the tune of "If I Can't Have You"

Oh, it's Garfield High
And it's Garfield Girls
That are always true
And loyal, and good sports too.
And it's Garfield's Girls
Always at their best
That make their school
So well known in the west.
So we'll go on fighting strong
And we're sure to get along
In our work and play
At Garfield High.
Oh it's Garfield High
And it's Garfield's Girls
That will always play the game.

12th Grade

12th Grade, 12th grade
We are never on the shelf
And we'll go on to our victory

We will fight as we go
Up the field against the foe
And we'll go out to our victory

For it's the 12th grade on the field against the foe

and we are sure, sure to win
For the spirit's there
and we always will play fair
So we'll go out to our victory

Senior A's Are Here Again

(Tune: Happy Days Are Here Again)

So long, sad times! Go 'long, bad times!
We are rid of you at last.
Howdy, gay times! Cloudy gray times,
You are now a thing of the past.
The Seniors A's are here again!
The skies above are clear again!
Let us sing a song of cheer again
Senior A's are here again!
Altogether shout it now!
There's no one who can doubt it now
So let's tell the world about it now
Senior A's are here again!
Your cares and troubles are gone:
There'll be no more from now on.
Senior A's are here again;
The skies above are clear again:
Let us sing a song of cheer
Senior A's are here again!

Under A Texas Moon

When the last ray of sun, mi querida,
Paints the hills with a soft golden hue,
When the long day is done, mi querida,
My poor heart calls for no one but you.

Dear one, let the spell of the fading light
Find you here in my arms, tonight,
Under a Texas moon,
Sweet one, let me whisper my love divine,
Feel the thrill of your lips on mine,
Under a Texas moon.

Desert flowers and the strum of a sweet guitar,
Fleeting hours, and the gleam of each silver star,
From afar, fair one, what care I what tomorrow brings,
For tonight it's my heart that sings
Under the Texas Moon.

When the calm drifting breeze, mi querida,
Whispers low over canyon and hill,
Then the soft swaying trees, mi querida,
Sing a song that will never be still.

So Beats My Heart For You

You're the only reason for my happiness,
You're the one I'm always dreaming of,
Just to show you what I mean by happiness
Let me paint a picture of my love.

As beats the ocean surf upon the sand
So beats my heart for you
For just as constantly as sea meets land,
So beats my heart for you.

I'll always be true, faithful to you
Skies have been blue, since you came in view.
As beats the rhythm of a mighty band,
So beats my heart for you, dear,
So beats my heart for you.

"On the Stairs"

(B. Pallais & Margie Griffith)
(Johnny & Bobby)

Bobby:
Do you know why they've put us in that back-room
In the attic up against the sky
And made-believe our nurseries a cloak-room
Do you know why?

Johnny:
No more I don't, nor why that Lammey's mother
What Ma thinks he'd have he bungs my eye
Eats ice-cream down there like any other
No more don't b.

Bobby:
Do you know why nurse says it isn't manners
For you and to ask folks twice for pie
And no one hite that man with two bananas
Do you know why?

Johnny:
No more I don't nor why that girl whose dress is Off her shoulders don't catch cold & die
When you & me get croup when we undress
No more don't b.

Class Dramatics and Entertainments

Bobby:

Peru is as nice as good as you and I is
And 'Kod don't want her up there in the sky
And lets her live to remain just when pie is Perhaps that's why

Johnny:

Do you know why that man that's got a crooked head
Rubbed it just now as if he felt a fly?
Could it be, Bobby, something that I dropped,
And is that why?

Bobby:

Good boys behave and so they don't get scolded
Or a drop hot milk on folks as they pass by

Johnny:

Marbles would bounce on Mr. Jones's bald head
But I shan't try.

Bobby:

Do you know why Aunt Jane is always snoring
at you and me because we tell a lie
And she didn't hit that man that called her darling
Do you know why?

Johnny:

No more I don't, nor why that man with mama
Just kissed her hand-

Bobby:

He loved it & that's why
He made it well the very way that mama
Does to you and I.

Johnny:

I feel so sleepy - was that, can a kiss do it?
What made him sigh & look up at the sky?

Bobby:

We weren't down stairs & he'd had missed a
and that was why!

HOME WORK

Bird songs and wind songs
Are calling me away,
But I have to do my Latin
I've simply got to stay.

Tree songs and sea songs
And sweeping sky songs too
I have to do my Civics
I've so very much to do.

Hill tops and tree tops
Wind laughing down the road
Oh, let me do my Latin
I've such an awful load,

Stout shoes and old coat
My dog is wagging his tail,
If I do not do my home-work
I'll almost surely fail.

MUSIC

I thought I knew what music meant
But that was before
I lay on the stone
Beside the little stream
And listened to its songs.
And it was before
I stood on the hill
And heard the mad harmony of
The wind.

Now music has new meaning,
New melodies -
For I am hearing
In every song
The rush of water
The wind,
And the little
Stars
Laughing out of the blue-black sky

Class Song "Hail and Farewell"
 Hail and farewell! Ye well-loved halls of learning,
 We're seniors now and we must say good-by,
 The door stands wide, our spirits yearn with hope
 to try the road,
 And courage now within our hearts beats high
 Then sing farewell to comrades of our school days,
 To friends so true, to hours of work and play,
 We go to try the road that leads us onward
 O'er all the rough and smooth of life's long way.

For all we've gained of knowledge and of pleasure,
 For happy hours, for memories glad and gay,
 Dear school, for all that you have ever giv'n to us
 Accept our thanks on our commencement day,
 Then sing farewell to comrades of our school days,
 To friends so true to hours of work and play,
 We go to try the road that leads us onward
 O'er all the rough and smooth of life's long way.

God of our fathers, whose almighty hand
 Leads forth in beauty all the starry band
 Of shining worlds in splendor through the skies
 Our grateful songs before Thy throne arise,
 Thy love divine hath led us in the past,
 In this free land by Thee our lot is cast;
 Be Thou our ruler, guardian, guide and stay,
 Thy word our law, Thy paths our chosen way,
 Refresh Thy people on their toilsome way,
 Lead us from night to never ending day;
 Fill all our lives with love and grace divine,
 And glory, loud and praise be ever thine

We will never bring disgrace to this our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks; we will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will revere and obey the city's laws and do our best to incite a like respect in those above us who are prone to annul or set them at naught; we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public sense of civic duty. Thus, in all these ways, we will transmit this city not only not less, but far greater and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.

SUMMER THIRTY SUPPLEMENT

Motto: WE BUILD THE LADDER BY WHICH WE CLIMB. Flower: SWEET PEA
First Edition GARFIELD HIGH SCHOOL, JUNE 6, 1929 Priceless

Seniors Will Dance in Cafeteria Tonight

Honoring the senior A's the class of W'31 will entertain them at the semi-annual senior A-B Dance this evening. The cafeteria will be the scene of much frolicking and a never-to-be-forgotten good time.

Plans have been made by chosen committees: Miss Haywood's B12 home room-decorations; Mrs. Magruder's B12 home room-tickets; and Mr. Peterson's B12 home room-program.

The dance is a program-dance, with table game for those that do not desire to dance. Stunts will be presented by the different home rooms and a prize given to the winner.

The music will be provided by the vocational orchestra under the direction of Mr. Powell.

Approximately two hundred will attend this dance including advisors and students.

To Our Sponsors

We, the class of S'30, extend to the Senior sponsors and advisers, our hearty thanks and appreciation for all they have done for us during our Senior year at Garfield.

We thank them for their help in promoting the good times held at Garfield High and for the advice and cooperation that they have given to us. In leaving Garfield we will always remember their kindness, and hope in return that they will always remember the class of S'30.

Cup For Winners

The Board of Commissioners is establishing a new tradition this semester in giving a silver loving cup to the winner of the senior A, faculty baseball game held semi-annually. The cup will have the name of the winner engraved on it and will be kept in the display case for years to come. In this way the record of the winners will be kept for future senior A classes to gaze upon.

This cup was intended for a different purpose originally. In 1929 Mr. Rocchio, proprietor of the Rexal drug stores on Whittier Blvd., and Mr. Landgraf, owner of the Red Mill Theater presented it to Garfield. It was to be given to the winners of the song and yell contest to be held each year.

This scheme proved to be impracticable and was abandoned. But a use has been found for it now and the cup is sure to see service in years to come.

Banquet is Scheduled for Wednesday Night

Seniors and faculty will meet in the cafeteria Wednesday, June 11, for the semi-annual senior dinner. This promises to be one of the most interesting functions of the semester with an approximate attendance of 200 people.

Summer Thirty at Last

After what seemed four endless years of toil, the senior class of Summer '30 has at last reached its goal. The road has not always been smooth and at times the members have gotten into ruts but always succeeded in climbing back to the open highway.

Away back in the dim past, they started to grammar school. After six years came the first round in the ladder of their education. Junior High school followed with three years of work leading up to another round. By this time most of the class began to realize that such a thing as graduation from high school really existed. They began to look forward to the time when they could wear a senior sweater and enjoy the privileges awarded to those of the Senior Class.

Graduation to some means but another step, towards complete education. To others it means the time when they will enter the business world to seek a livelihood for themselves.

Always behind, helping and encouraging whenever possible, have been their teachers. To these teachers should go much praise and thanks.

Class Mates, don't let graduation from high school mean the termination of your education. Go to college and prepare yourself for the future. This is possible to nearly all of us if we really try.

Teacher, "A student should have ten hours sleep."

Philip Levy, "How can I? I have only six classes."

Summer Thirty

Commencement time is here again
And Seniors say good-by
And far and wide though we may go
We'll think of Garfield High,
And though our paths lead far away
Whatever we may do
To creed and motto, songs and all
We ever will be true.
And so we say farewell at last
Both sad and full of cheer,
And though we take with us a lot
We leave part of us here.

MARGARET GRIFFITH

Senior A's of Garfield

I

Senior A's of Garfield
Welcome you today
Come and watch our program
And pass the time away.
Do you like our sweaters
And our Senior Class?
You should sing with feeling
As we go walking past.
Oh the Senior A's of Garfield
Look nice in Orange and White
Oh the Senior A's of Garfield
Are what you'd call just right.
Reaching for a rainbow
Happiness for days, All our troubles over
We are the Senior A's.

II

Senior A's of Garfield
Grades are all O.K.
Gee! we sure are happy
What more is there to say
Time is going faster
We must hurry on
Soon we will be leaving
Our school days will be gone
But now we have our sweaters
Don't we look nice and neat?
You really must confess now
The Seniors can't be beat.
Now our song is over
That's all we have to say
All our worries over
WE ARE THE SENIOR A'S

MARGARET BONAR S'30

Our Prophecy

Having tied for the Inter-National Walkathon Contest in 1942, we, Chris Kitching and Fern Burton, making up one of the couples and Juanita Foster and Robert Biggs the other, were booked for a tour with Hookem and Fakem circus by the Hemphill and Friedlander Booking agency. Upon entering their office to sign our contracts we were surprised to find that the partners were none other than our old friends James and Albert. After a short visit with them we left for the airport to take a plane to Wattsville, where we were to join the circus. On our arrival at the field we were greeted by Dale Denham who was manager of the T. A. T. airport. During our short visit with Dale we learned that none other than Mary Glora, who had become a noted aviatrix, was to be the pilot of our plane and Howard Mortensen was chief mechanic of the airdrome. Entering the depot to make final arrangements for our flight, who should be taking dictation from Gilbert Rogers, assistant manager of the airport, but Lorraine Hilton, private secretary to the managers. Shortly afterward we were notified that our plane was ready to take off and after a greeting with Mary we all got aboard the ship for our journey. Among the passengers of the ship whom should we find but Clifford Dobson and his wife Margaret Griffith, who had become a renowned poetess. Clifford told us that he had gone in the printing business with Charles Sismondo, and Louis Greenberg, in San Francisco, who were doing very well. During our trip Clifford and Margaret gave us some information of what had become of a few of our old classmates. We learned that Louis Valerio was running a funeral parlor in Santa Monica and that he had married Beatrice Partida. Jerome Taylor had become a dentist with Lois Edwards as his assistant. Laura Like was manager of Frank Humberstone's

HOME ROOM 208

Since coming together at the start of the summer semester home room 208, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Capps, has grown to be one compact group, consisting of forty two up and coming Senior A's.

As soon as it was convenient, the election of home room officers was held with Howard Mortensen elected president. The other officers are as follows:

Juanita Foster, Vice-president; Avalon Mendenhall, secretary; James Hemphill, Leonard Williams, Boys' League Representatives; Florence Ruiz, May Hunt, Girls' League Representatives; and Mary DiNoto appointed class treasurer, who handles all the deposits for the Senior Budget.

The new semester was started right with a hundred percent subscriptions for the Log and Annual.

The seniors of 208 have taken an active part in all student and school activities. Three students are members of the C.S.F. and fourteen members in the Achievement section of the Honor Society. Two students hold positions on the Board of Commissioners, one as Commissioner of Finance and the other as the President of the G.A.A. Three students

HOME ROOM 201

It seems that Miss Callahan's Senior A Home Room has an enviable record tacked up for others to shoot at. She has taken them from the B10 straight through the Senior term to graduation.

Needless to say it was the first home room to be 100 percent on both Log and annual subscriptions.

Three of the four Ephebianians are members of the Home Room. Six are members of the Garfield Knights. Five are Commissioners. It holds one of the highest attendance records in the school.

Nine of the group are members of the California Scholarship Federation. Five of this group hold a life membership. Two are Novitiate members.

Twenty-seven are or have been members of the Achievement club.

Miss Callahan may regret losing her home room to graduation, but it is with envy that the Callahanians pass Miss Callahan to another group.

Amos; Heard they had a three piece orkestry at the opera house last night.

Rufus: Yep, three pieces all right--piano, stool, and player.

HOME ROOM 108

As graduation time draws nigh and the members of 108 are in a short time to become Alumni, they realize that possibly the best time of their lives is about to come to a close. They also realize that their senior year was their happiest due to a great extent to the efforts and enthusiastic help given by Miss Porter, their home room teacher.

Being such a large class they felt they needed a president who could carry on the problems that would arise and so elected Claude Hoff, who has done his part in making this, a successful class, very good. The remaining officers are Louis Greenberg, Vice President; Jerome Taylor, treasure; Gertrude Gonzales, Secretary; Chris Kitching, Log Reporter; Henry Kuntz, Boys' League Representative; and Alice Garcia, Girls' League Representative.

Checking up on school activities we find this group has supplied the student body president, the president of the B. A. A. and the president of the Girls' League.

Next we find they have the assistant editor of the Log and the assistant editor of the annual.

ATTENDANCE AWARDS
Ruby Frith, Frank Krahulik, Loraine Hilton

Attendance Rings to Three

Ruby Frith, Loraine Hilton, and Frank Krahulik will receive rings on graduation as awards for perfect attendance from the seventh to the twelfth grade inclusive. The records of these showed neither tardiness nor absence during the six years.

Ruby Frith received the same award on her graduation from Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School. She has been a membership of the Honor Society during her Senior High School career. Frank Krahulik also received the same award from the same Junior High School. He held such offices as president of the Boys' League and Sargent at Arms for the A9 class while at Stevenson. In Senior High School he has been a Home Room president and had part in 10th grade baseball and "A" football.

Loraine Hilton has attended Garfield throughout the six years. She has received shorthand awards and has taken a great deal of interest in after-school sports.

These students have something to be proud of. They have had a good record in everything else and this award signifies that they are punctual.

Where Seniors Come From

From far and wide the members of the class of S '30 have assembled. Four countries are represented. Thirty-two of the forty-eight states have representation.

It is only natural that California should stand high claiming forty-one members of the class. Next comes Arizona with six members closely followed by Pennsylvania with five. Colorado, Connecticut, and Oklahoma boast four members each.

Three seems to be the most popular number, for Indiana, Nebraska, Texas Wisconsin, New Mexico, New York, New Jersey, and Massachusetts give three each.

Two are from Kentucky, N. Carolina, N. Dakota, Kansas, and Idaho.

One comes from each of the following states: Montana, Wyoming, Iowa, Arkansas, W. Virginia, Utah, Ohio, Maine, Missouri.

Eight percent of the class come from foreign countries. Canada stands at the top of the list by laying claim to five native sons.

Mexico gives four while from Nicaragua comes one.

From The President

On behalf of the officers of class of S'30 I wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the sincere support and cooperation given to us by the class. Our term of office has been an enjoyable one and we regret that we may serve you one short month longer.

Also they have with them three Knights, one National Athletic Scholarship society member, four members of the C. S. F., fourteen members of the Honor Society, seven lettermen, four members of the G. A. A., three leads in the Senior Play, William, Cleo, and Caesar of the Boys' Operetta, the lead and several minor parts of the Girls' Operetta.

were in the Senior play and did their bit in making it a success.

Athletics also hold a high position. Of the eight lettermen, one is a four year letterman in track, having won the mile in the League meet for three consecutive years. Two are also members of the National Athletic Scholarship Society.

The girls are active in girls' after school sports and have been members of the championship teams. Five girls hold letters in the G. A. A.

Commencement draws near and although rifts have occurred now and then, Seniors home room 208 is quite a happy group and it will be a sad time when graduation must part them.

Our Prophecy

chain of variety stores. John Mottola was traveling on the Orpheum circuit as a woman impersonator, and Sarah Jane Metchikova was pursuing an operatic career, with Marie Hanson as her accompanist.

All too soon our delightful trip came to an end and under the skilled piloting of Mary we found ourselves gliding into the airport at Wattsville.

Alighting from the plane who should greet us but Gene Joyce and his wife Pearl Fischer who having learned of our coming had arranged a reception in our honor. Gene told us that he had become the owner of a chain of gas stations. In the crowd that had gathered to greet us we found Lous Geckte, mayor of Wattsville, Thomas Richardson, chief-of-police, Russell Dere, fire-chief, Margaret Dent, superintendant of schools, Vera Lowrie, famous hygienic authority, and Kenneth Irving, owner of the Hookem and Fakem circus. After a delightful reunion with our old friends we were escorted to the circus grounds and arrived there shortly after the afternoon performance. It being just about dinner time we retired to our quarters and prepared for dinner. Entering the mess-tent we were affronted with many shouts and friendly greetings. Upon closer inspection we found among the host of diners: Jack Llewelyn, who had become champion tight-rope walker of the world, Mary DiNoto, LaVerne Parsons, Ida Pfeiffer, and Laura Bronsart, as the Four Amazons, a troupe of trapeze artists, Harold Hayes, publicity agent for the circus, and Bobby Wilson, bare-back rider. During the meal we learned that Morris Struman, was chief cook and that Bernard Meersten was in charge of the food end of the circus, after the meal we again retired to our quarters to prepare for our evening performance. During the evening's performance we ran across Tonie Leitner, ringmaster; Lila Khier, lion tamer; and Ben Shine, Johnnie Theriot, and Ted Landres as clowns. In the circus band we found Earl McMills, leader; James Walter, drummer; and Adolph Berke, "piccoloi Pete" of the band.

The next morning we took in the sights of the circus beginning at the side show, where we found James Hunt, tallest man of the world, and his dear friend, Roland Wilson as the smallest Scotchman in existence. We found Blanche Pallais over in one corner of the tent charming her pet snakes. As we were leaving the side show we ran into Lloyd Patterson who was a genuine sword swallower. Lloyd told us that Kenichi Saito was in the next tent practicing his Ju Jitsu as he was billed on the circus program to take all comers. We went to Kenneth's tent for a tete a tete and learned that Gooldy Wilson, Emmett Troiano, and Hilma Pipkin were teaching in a nearby University.

Kenneth told us that Della Wenquist was Dean of Ladies at Marguerite Johnson's College for refined girls. Walter Lyons had become a football coach at Wattsville High School and had turned out a state championship team the previous season.

In a nearby theatre we noticed that Alice Garcia, Florence Ruiz, Josephine Fierro, Clara Robles, Gertrude Gonzalez, and Maxine Salcido were appearing in a Spanish revue. We learned that they were backed by Augustina Gutierrez's school of music. As we were wondering around the grounds we came across George Kurutz, gang boss of the circus workers. Paul Jones was running a hot dog stand. Mildred Green had charge of one of the concession booths by the side of Rose Goggin's palmistry tent.

Fern happened to be reading the Wattsville news and called our attention to the fact that it was edited by Emerson Caldwell. In the headlines was the report that Florence Leanord was suing Lafayette Reeder, who had become one of the idle rich of Hollywood, for breach of promise. The case was to come up before Clarence Rogers, who was Superior Judge. Defending Lafayette was Mae Hunt, who was a famous lawyer. Frank Dimmett was acting as attorney for Florence. In the society column we read of Dorothy Burr's engagement to Frank Kraulik. Turning to the sport page we read a very thrilling account of John Tatar's recent victory which won him the U.S. championship of the mile run. The article was written by Henry Kuntz, Sport Editor. We also read an account of the double wedding of the Berry Twins to George Brown and another man who was unknown to us.

The next day the circus left Wattsville to go to Park Junction. Upon arriving in town we stopped at a coffee shop which was run by Beulah Boyd. From Beulah we learned that Idris Lloyd and Lucille Smith were to be married that night in the village church by Reverend "Bob" Crago, and that Lucille Lewis was to be maid of honor with Raymond Eaton as best man. Idris had become a properous interior decorator. After eating we bid Beulah Adieu and went on a shopping tour. Entering the Robinson Department store we learned from Ruth Bulgier, head floor-lady, that Carma was owner of the store, and that Ricarda Alcala was purchasing agent and at present was in Paris. Carmen Arteaga was her traveling companion.

Chris decided that he needed some dancing shoes and upon arriving at the shoe department we were received by Wilson McLaughlin a specialist on foot wear. While fitting Chris, Wilson told us that Ruth Smith and Bernice Shafer were in charge of the beauty culture department. He also told us that Julia Harvey was chief window designer.

It was just about time for the afternoon performance so we took a taxi to the circus grounds. We found that the taxi company was owned by Ernest Casale, who had made quite a bit of money in oil through his broker, Ralph Kaplan. On our way to the circus we noticed a sign

"Hogg's Sweet Shop" and later learned that it was owned by our old friend Bertha. When we entered the circus we heard that a new troupe of feminine acrobats were billed to appear that afternoon and upon investigation found that they were none other than Mabel Friedericks, Ethel Mordecai, Rose Rolando and Dorothea Smith. Passing the ticket booth we met Edward Slingerland chief-ticket seller, and on the platform at the sideshow was the barker Leonard Williams introducing Raymond Nelson the fire-eater.

The next few days were quite uneventful. During that time we learned that Margaret Bonar's latest song hit "College Humor" was burning up the world. The music to this song was written by Avalon Mendenhall. We also learned that Lillian Martinelli had won the International Ladies' Tennis Championship from Ruby Frith. After one of the evening performances we ran across Dolores Ingraham who was investigating circus life to find an idea for her next book. Dolores told us that she had just come from Hollywood and that Ionia Leffler had finished her latest picture "Women Without Men," which was directed by Albert Birnbaum. Playing opposite Ionia was the matinee idol, Donald Christleib. She also told us that Margaret Bachtell and Mildred Menar were running a chocolate dipping school in Hollywood.

The next day in search of recreation we found ourselves entering the notorious dance palace of Charles Fogliani. Charles had become a favorite tap dancer and had taught such great dancers as Julia Leitner and Philip and started them on their road to fame. As we entered the hall Charles was giving a lesson his new protege, Horacio Otero. Our contract with the circus finally came to close and we registered in the next international walkathon which is to be held in Paris. In the contest we are to be sponsored by Clyde Hoff, Wayne Umbach,
